

Cellphone use in flight is not a good idea. The mixture of thin air, cramped quarters, frayed nerves and alcohol consumption already pushes passengers to the limit. Add multiple high-volume cellphone conversations and the recipe for disaster is complete. Cell phone use in the cabin would compromise a flight attendant's ability to maintain order in an emergency, would enable terrorists in working against us, and would definitely increase tension in the aircraft. Use on the ground doesn't seem to be a problem. Let's leave it at that!